

Really Fast Printer Drivers!

Easier Maintenance and Fewer Pit Stops

Seagull Scientific is the world's largest developer of true Windows drivers for label printers and proudly supplies many printer companies. Although our drivers achieve maximum performance used with our BarTender label software, you can download them free for use with any true Windows program. In contrast, most other label software uses the old DOS approach of locking printer support inside the program. This complicates Windows setup and network maintenance, and it forces non-standard print job management.

Label Software that Races to the Finish

"Drivers by Seagull" take full advantage of Windows' printing architecture. That means an easy install for you and optimum network speed for your users. Special driver enhancements let BarTender access the high-performance features in most label printers, such as printer-based bar codes, serialization, and RFID tag encoding. And, when we release new drivers, you can download them for free without upgrading the entire label program.
